The Art Center January 2020 Family Dinner Placemat
For recipe ideas, conversation topics, and more, visit familydinnerproject.org

Art Project of the Month!
Claes Oldenburg: Oversized Food
Materials needed: newspaper, tape, glue, paint
View full tutorial online at quincyartcenter.org.

Enter the 46th Annual High School Art Competition
Open to area high schoolers grades 9th - 12th.
Students may submit up to three original artworks.

The High School Art Teachers Exhibit
features the artwork of area art educators who have students exhibiting in the competition. Visit quincyartcenter.org for full prospectus for these exhibits, entry guidelines, and forms.

Artwork Drop Off Dates: Sat. January 11, Mon. January 13, & Tues. January 14 from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. at the Art Center

Food for Thought
Did you know Quincy was home to one of the most famous artists of the 1920s? Neysa McMein was born Marjorie Frances McMein in Quincy, IL and lived there until she moved to Chicago to attend The School of the Art Institute of Chicago. McMein went on to become one of the leading portrait artists in New York City creating many magazine covers and advertisements including covers for Saturday Evening Post, and ads for Coca-Cola and Palmolive. Her most notable work was creating the first depiction of Betty Crocker, a fictional character created by General Mills.

Claes Oldenburg, our other featured artist for January, also attended The School of the Art Institute of Chicago and even created a giant bat sculpture for the city. If you could create a giant sculpture of something in your town, what would it be? Where would you put your sculpture?

_____________________________________________
_____________________________________________
_____________________________________________

Going into the new year what are some things you want to accomplish in 2020?
_____________________________________________
_____________________________________________

What are some things you want to accomplish by 2030?
_____________________________________________
_____________________________________________

Shake your projects with us! Post a picture of any Placemat Projects you created from September - January on Facebook or Instagram using #QACFamilyDinnerProject for a chance to win a $40 Gift Certificate towards classes and workshops at the Art Center.
Winner will be chosen January 31, 2020!

* Upcoming classes. Register online today!